Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time – September 13, 2026 –

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

We have celebrated Labor Day and said good-bye to summer. The new school year is well underway for all the schools with the conclusion of the 180th Canfield Fair. It means that the religious education and sacramental preparation classes will soon begin and more activities can be seen in the parishes. As we move through another year, we continue to move to see about the work of collaboration between the parishes.

One of the ways a parish has to assist in this work are the councils of the parish. If you say parish councils, people may think of only one council. Every parish has two parish councils, the first is the parish finance council and the second is the parish pastoral council. It might be better to go with the Finance Council and the Pastoral Council. It seems there still are misunderstandings about the purpose of these councils.

The Parish Finance Council is a consultative body that helps the pastor in the administration of parish property and goods, financial resources, buildings and grounds. They help develop, review, and monitor the annual budget. They help prepare and publish financial reports for the parish community and for the bishop. They also analyze monthly financial statements, track income and expenses, and evaluate how things are going. Members of the Finance Council provide expertise in finance, administration, business and law.

The Parish Pastoral Council is a consultative and advisory body that exists to support the pastor in setting the pastoral direction for the parish. The Pastoral Council is to encourage all parishioners and all parish ministries to participate in the life of the church. The Pastoral Council is to help plan and promote activities in the parish with the organizations of the parish in the important areas of Worship and Prayer, Discipleship – Faith Formation - Catechesis, Christian Service, Evangelization, Family and Parish Life. The attention of the pastoral council is on the ministry, pastoral care, and mission of the parish.

The pastoral council is often misunderstood to be like other councils we might be familiar with. We might think of a city council or a town hall. The pastoral council is not a legislative group or place to offer propositions on the administration of the parish. Pastoral council is about the pastoral life of the parish, the ministry and mission of the parish. It is about enhancing our ministries, looking for the needs and planning new ministries. Asking about how we worship, about the health of our education and formation programs for our children, teens, youth and adults, and how can we serve and evangelize?

These are challenging times and if we are to face them, we need to learn about them, acknowledge them and plan some ways to address them. That is a big task for us, but that is the purpose of our Pastoral Council. It might seem new to us and still very daunting. We need to see the pastoral council as people representing the worshipping community coming together as workers who live the liturgy, build up the Church and serve the Gospel.

Your brother in Christ, Fr. Tom
